This Month's Meeting Agenda Features the Following:

We begin the New Year with great optimism and welcome two new members of the Florida House who will serve our community with great Conservative enthusiasm. We know them well from working in the local grassroots so it is a real privilege to hear their initial reports of their first days in Tallahassee. This will be a great opportunity to get firsthand accounts of the realities of entering the Florida House and asking questions that matter to you. Please join us as we welcome two valued friends of the RCRC to our podium.

The First Report from Florida District 16 with Jason Fischer

Jason takes a solid resume with him to Tallahassee that speaks of northeast Florida. He has been a civilian engineer for the USN, negotiated energy contracts for CSX, worked as a transportation engineer for HNTB, and has been a lone Conservative voice on the Duval County School Board. He now applies this solid background to his new positions on several House Committees including Energy and Utilities, Natural Resources, Public Integrity and two for PreK – 12 education. His insights into these activities are very important to Duval County and it will be interesting to see how they will evolve in the 2017 session.

The First Report from Florida District 11 with Cord Byrd

Cord has been front and center in local Republican activities in recent years. He has defined his foundation in life as a Christian, a family man, a small business owner and a strong Constitutionalist who means it – and he has taken this solid footing to Tallahassee where he promises to fight the good fight. He has also received the highest rating of support from the NRA. He is well-placed as a member of the Civil Justice & Claims, Agriculture & Property Rights, Health Quality, Justice Appropriations and Public Integrity & Ethics subcommittees. Cord will have some very interesting thoughts about the atmosphere in Tallahassee and how it will impact our community.

Looking Ahead: We are gearing up for several exciting programs in the months ahead reflecting what should be a positive time for Republicans in making real progress in our nation. Stay tuned for the details.

Refreshments will be served so please join us for an evening of Conservative spirit, knowledge and camaraderie with your fellow Republicans. We welcome guests anytime so feel free to bring a friend.

The River City Republican Club is dedicated to Conservative principles in providing education, leadership opportunities and a place to become politically involved.
